The Art of Engineering

Date: 17th September, 2023

To celebrate Engineer's Day on 15th September, Lead RGIT, the language enhancement and development committee of RGIT, organized The Art of Engineering event. Being engineers ourselves, this topic was deemed worthy enough to be our competition's focus. Innovation, imagination and execution were all tested in one of three categories: Poetry, Writing and Reels. Students, armed with their creative talents, unleashed them in a fusion between engineering and the arts.

With one week of preparation time, participants needed to come up with a creative piece related to engineering. Ranging from their hardships as students in this field, to their views on the topic, the results were well-written, humorous, and imaginative.

However, only 3 could be chosen for the certificate of excellence, and on the 17th of September, the Google form used to collect the entries was closed. The submissions of 7 enthusiastic participants were consolidated by LEAD members and dispatched to our capable judging panel to reward the best results.

After thoughtful consideration and intense discussion, a tough battle had reached its end, and 3 victors emerged. Atharva Joshi, Siddharth Salian and Ashutosh Somkuwar were deemed 1st, 2nd and 3rd respectively.

This competition was engaging and challenging with every participant impressing us with their blend of creative talent and engineering experience. It served as a breath of fresh air from the rigorous nature of the engineering curriculum.

Elocution Competition

Date: 20th October, 2023.

Venue: Language lab

Lead RGIT, the language enhancement and development committee of RGIT, organized an Elocution Competition open for all the First-year students of RGIT on 18th October. The focus of this event was to encourage the students of a technical college to express their views using their communication skills.

The topics of the competition were:

1. Mental Health and its consequences.
2. Eradication of poverty.
3. The power of discipline and unleashing your potential.

The participants were instructed to gather in the language lab by 10:30 AM, where the elocution competition was scheduled to begin.

Five enthusiastic participants arrived, each prepared to speech on their preferred topics. The event was efficiently managed and coordinated by members of the LEAD Club, who ensured its smooth execution. Their efforts were guided and supervised by Prof. Shashikant Patil.

Each speaker was given a total time of 10 minutes for each of their speeches. The speeches given by students were inspirational and enlightening.

After thoughtful consideration and intense discussion, a tough battle had reached its end, and 3 victors emerged. Abhinand Panicker, Aritra Sinharoy and Aparna Jain were deemed 1st, 2nd, and 3rd respectively.

Adhishakti event
(collaboration with WDC RGIT)

Date: 19th October, 2023.

Venue: Language lab

On the 19th of October, a special event took place as a joint effort by WDC and LEAD CLUB in the form of an essay competition. This day held particular significance as it marked the fifth day of Navratri, a Hindu festival celebrated with great fervor.

The day commenced with an aarti ceremony on the ground floor of the college, adding a spiritual touch to the event. Subsequently, the participants were instructed to gather in the language lab by 10:30 AM, where the essay competition was scheduled to begin.

Nine enthusiastic participants arrived, each prepared to write on their preferred topics. The event was efficiently managed and coordinated by the volunteers from the LEAD Club, who ensured its smooth execution. Their efforts were guided and supervised by Dr. Poonam Sonar Mam and Prof. Kavita Rathi Mam.

The participants were given an hour to write their essays, and upon completion, the essays were collected and handed over to the judges. The task of evaluating the essays fell to the capable hands of judges Prof. Sashikant Patil and Prof. Ankush Ingole.

A day after the competition, the winners were announced in an event held in the seminar hall. Chavan Paayal, a student from the FE was declared the winner, while Advait Joshi, a student from the BE, secured the runner-up position.

This essay competition was a memorable and engaging event, combining elements of creativity, knowledge, and cultural significance, providing a platform for students to showcase their writing skills

Clash of Words - Parliamentary Debate Competition

Date: 7th February, 2024

Venue: Language Lab

On the 7th of February, 2024, the parliamentary debate competition “Clash of Words” was organized by the language enhancement and development committee of RGIT. Open to all students and spanning over two days, the event was filled with contentious topics to debate on and ruthless competition.

As LEAD representatives, Madiha and Harshil began the opening ceremony for day 1 of the club’s most anticipated inaugural event, Clash of Words commenced. The teams, adhering to punctuality, had assembled in the language lab at 10:30 a.m. sharp. Armed with their revolutionary team names, determination and vocabulary, they stood by as the opening ceremony was concluded.

Upon further instructions, the team members crossed their fingers as their leaders stepped up to pick a chit at random. This chit would assign the team’s proposition or opposition to a topic. This year’s debate competition was a fierce contest for the advocacy of their topics by the 8 teams that graced this competition.

After the luck based selection, the president, Nisha, stepped forward to explain the rules and regulations of the contest. Following the debriefing, a coin flip divided the teams into two different venues for simultaneous proceeding of the event with each team being allotted 5 minutes for the preparation of the topic.

The room A participants were judged by Nisha and Vinay while room B had Siddharth and Abhinand as their panel. The topics were controversial and difficult, but the teams were assertive with their beliefs and gave their best. Using literary skills at their finest and making integral points with reason, the teams gave the judges a tough time choosing a winner.

Teamwork was seen widely, as well as good communication skills, unique reasoning and insightful thinking. In turn, the speakers with outstanding ideas were rewarded with chocolates, boosting their enthusiasm for participating.

After oscillating between proposition and opposition, the judges came to a consensus on defining the winners, who would proceed to the semifinals and finals. Thus, the eventful Day

1 of Clash of Words ended on an exciting note, fueling the anticipation for the Day 2 participants and ending the journey of the runner-up teams who no doubt gave it their all.

Clash of Words was a huge success on Day 1 and marked another chapter in making an impact on literature and ideas.

Date: February 8, 2024

Venue: Language Lab

Day 2 of the Clash of Words debate competition organized by LEAD commenced promptly at 11:30 am. The event witnessed an intense exchange of ideas and arguments as participants engaged in thought-provoking debates on pressing social issues.

Beginning with a toss to determine the proposition and opposition teams for each debate, the teams were assigned topics, and allotted time to prepare their arguments.

In the semi-final round, Team RAT and (the team name) squared off on the contentious topic of whether brothels should be legalized. After a rigorous debate, the Proposition team RAT emerged victorious, showcasing their eloquence and persuasive skills.

Advancing to the finals were Code Red and ArgueMates. ArgueMates took on the role of Proposition, while Code Red defended the opposition. The debate centered on the legalization of abortion, a topic of immense societal significance. Despite a fiercely contested battle, the Proposition team, ArgueMates, demonstrated exceptional prowess and won the title.

The awards ceremony, a fitting culmination to the event, was graced by esteemed faculty members, Prof. Ankush G. Ingole and Prof. Shashikant Patil. Their presence added prestige to the occasion as they presented accolades to the deserving winners, recognizing their intellectual acumen and debating prowess.

Clash of Words debate event served as a platform for intellectual discourse, fostering critical thinking and communication skills among the participants. It was a testament to the vibrant academic culture at RGIT, where students engage in meaningful dialogue on issues shaping our society.

To honour every team that participated and to thank them immensely for making this event possible, below is a list of all the teams that made Clash of Words a fruitful experience:
